PHOENIX MAN SENTENCED TO 10 YEARS FOR CONSPIRACY TO DISTRIBUTE AND DISTRIBUTION OF 10 POUNDS METHAMPHETAMINE.

PHOENIX, ARIZONA -- The United States Attorney's Office for the District of Arizona announced that on May 24, 2002, Anthony Morales Garza, 28, of Gilbert, Arizona, was sentenced to 121 months, for Conspiracy to Distribute Methamphetamine and Distribution of Methamphetamine, by United States District Judge Raner C. Collins, in Tucson, Arizona.

The evidence at trial showed the Defendant conspired with Jose S. Gonzales, 34, of Guadalupe, Arizona to Distribute at least 10 pounds of methamphetamine to an undercover agent with DEA. Among other things, Jose S. Gonzales, negotiated a transaction with the undercover agent for 20 pounds of methamphetamine to be delivered to Tucson from Phoenix on October 12, 2000. When Gonzales met the undercover agent on October 12, 2000, he indicated that his source of the methamphetamine would be in one the vehicles involved in transporting the methamphetamine from Phoenix; that his source did not want to meet the undercover or be directly involved in the transaction; and, was being cautious about the manner of delivery. Gonzales further indicated that his source owned a carpet shop in Phoenix. Prior to the transaction taking place, the Defendant arrived driving a vehicle where 10.53 pounds of methamphetamine was later found. The Defendant made contact with Gonzales prior to the transaction taking place but did not directly take part in the transaction. At the time of the offense, the Defendant owned Aardvark Carpet in Phoenix.

Jose S. Gonzales, previously pled guilty to Conspiracy to Distribute and Distribution of Methamphetamine and is currently serving 10 years in the Bureau of Prisons.

Anthony Morales Garza had been found guilty by a jury on February 1, 2002, with violating Title 21, of the United States Code, Sections 846 and 841(a)(1).

The investigation in this case was conducted by Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA).

The prosecution was handled by Lynnette C. Kimmins Assistant United States Attorney, District of Arizona, Tucson, Arizona.
